$41,080 Chest Drive Is Launched

Speaker Tells Workers Goal Can Be Reached

Early Pledges Bring In $4,000; Funds To Aid 11 Agencies

Salem's Community Chest fund raising campaign was launched Monday night at a kickoff dinner in the Memorial building.

Approximately 175 canvassers were present at the dinner to start the offensive to raise $41,080 to support the 11 red feather agencies which make up the Community Chest.

Rev. Richard C. Swogger, pastor of the First Methodist church, was principal speaker and Stephen A. Gonda, fund chairman, presided.

"Salem has a fundamental goodness in it not found in many of our cities, which will help make the campaign a success," Rev. Swogger said.

This goodness, which he called "the birth pains of a new day," is derived mainly through a willingness to work, he said.

Swogger pointed out that campaign workers should take a joy in their campaigning, not for the thousands of dollars gained by it but for the working together for the good of the community.

Mr. Gonda called the 1950 campaign, with the highest quota in Salem's history, a challenge to the campaign workers and the people of the community.

He expressed confidence, however, that this year's goal of 16 percent increase over last year, will be reached because "Salem has never failed in any of its campaigns."

Mr. Gonda expressed his gratitude to his co-workers and to Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, Chamber of Commerce secretary, who prepared all the necessary preliminary work and handled over $4,000 in advance donations.

Gene Young, vice chairman, explained the rules for the volunteer workers and urged all members and contributors alike to wear their red lapel feathers as a sign of doing their part.

Under the campaign rules, actual solicitation begins today throughout the area and members of the 11 teams will confine their canvassing to the territory assigned to them until Thursday. After that date, all teams will canvass the community as open territory.

Window stickers and red feather tabs will be given each contributor, with each business house or departments of firms given a special 100 percent card when all employees have subscribed.

John Hochadel, chairman in charge of industry, urged members to get started as soon as possible on the campaign and endeavor to obtain subscribers to raise their contribution 16 percent over last year.

H. F. Wykoff, co-captain of the general committee, announced a general election of 12 new directors to the fund association will be held immediately following this year's campaign. He appointed Walter F. Deming, Curtis A. Vaughan and Charles Haldi to comprise the nominating committee.

Resume Bus Strike Confab In Canton

CANTON, Oct. 17—(AP)—Mayor Thomas H. Nichols said today that negotiations towards ending a three-day bus strike here would be resumed.

He said representatives of the Canton City Lines, Inc., and the AFL Canton Bus Drivers Association had agreed to meet in his office today.

The strike, the third of its kind in four years here, has caused little absenteeism in factories and schools. Some 34,000 regular riders turned to other means of transportation.

The union has demanded 25-cent hourly pay boosts.

Senate Fight May Get Hotter

Ferguson Predicts "Dirty Campaign"

(Associated Press) If State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson is right, Ohio's already hot senate fight is going to get "hotter."

The Democrat nominee for the senate post, opposing U.S. Senator Robert A. Taft, Republican, predicted at Elyria last night the campaign was going to be "an awfully dirty campaign from here on out."

Meanwhile Taft, speaking on a television network program in Cincinnati sponsored by the Labor League for Taft, said "men are standing up in plants openly" against attacks on him by "certain labor union bosses."

Lausche Speaks Republicans and Democrats in other sections of the state yesterday heard campaign talks by Gov. Frank J. Lausche, Democrat nominee to succeed himself, and Don H. Ebright, the Republican candidate for governor.

Lausche in Dayton hit at critics who he said had charged extravagance in his administration, insisting that improvements had been made in all state departments without new taxes.

At Portsmouth, Ebright called for election of a Republican Congress at the Nov. 7 balloting, saying the country needs a GOP Congress "to stem the tide of Communists infiltrating the nation's government."

Ferguson spoke extemporaneously at Elyria to members of the Democratic party organization. He said:

"My opponent is conducting one of the dirtiest campaigns the state ever saw."

Repeats Prediction Ferguson repeated his prediction he would win the November election by a quarter million votes.

"After I beat Taft," he added, "it will be the end of the old Republican party and the remnants may reorganize and become progressive; that is about what happened when Lincoln led the party back in the '60s."

The panel which served with Senator Taft on the telecast asked if he is opposed to prohibiting strikes by law. He answered that the Taft-Hartley law is based on the principle of free collective bargaining.

"The employer must deal with representatives of the employees," he said. "If they can't reach an agreement, you have the right to strike."

Rural Schools Go Modern

Era Of Little Red School House Fades In District

AN ERA is fast fading in the Salem district. The intimate thrills of the one-room schoolhouse may soon disappear completely from the scene as practical buildings of the centralized school rise to enclose the educational facilities of today's children.

The last one-room school in the Goshen district of the Mahoning county school system is the Willowvale school situated approximately a mile south of Route 62 and two miles west of Salem.

There 34 children in the first through sixth grades are taught by Mrs. William Miskimins.

The two-year-old Goshen Center school has replaced a one-room school next door. The $45,000 structure includes four large, fully-equipped rooms where 100 children study. Miss Edna Rose is the principal.

THE NEW United Local School district building 1½ miles south of New Garden has passed the half-way stage in its construction program. It will be ready for occupancy late next spring or fall.

Occupating an estimated $225,000, it will contain 15 classrooms, two administration rooms, kitchen and multi-purpose room.

Up to 500 elementary children will use this building. Offices will be situated in the northeast corner of the building.

The Goshen Union addition was used for the first time last year and cost $115,000. Six classrooms and a well-operated cafeteria were included in the project.

A total of 20 rooms form the Damascus unit now, with 475 children and 16 teachers making full use of the modern facilities.

ACCLAIMED one of the most progressive school buildings in the state, the new $180,000 West Local school district building near East Rochester will have eight classrooms, an office, cafeteria and a large all-purpose auditorium-gym, complete with stage, bleachers and dressing rooms.

The classrooms, which will accommodate more than 200 children, will be situated in two rows with a tunnel over the corridor which is built between the two rows. Natural light thus enters the rooms from both sides. Radiant heating supplements standard room heating.

Schools to be abandoned upon completion of the structure next spring are those at East Rochester, Bayard, Bunker Hill and Green Hill.

Truman On Air Late Tonight

Talk Will Cover U. S. Foreign Policy

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17—(AP)—President Truman speaks to the nation tonight for the first time since his Pacific talk with General MacArthur.

The occasion is a major foreign policy address—the opening shot of a forceful, new effort to induce

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—(AP)—Harold E. Stassen wants President Truman to say tonight whether he has decided to accept Gen. Douglas MacArthur's views on Pacific problems.

If he has not, the Republican president of the University of Pennsylvania declared last night, the people are justified in regarding Mr. Truman's dramatic flight to Wake Island to confer with MacArthur as "a sinful political escapade."

Russia to talk peace in realistic terms. It will be made in War Memorial Opera House, birthplace of the United Nations.

There is a big question as to just how much Mr. Truman will disclose of his concentrated talk with the United Nations commander for the Korean war in their man-to-man meeting on isolated Wake island Sunday.

Of that meeting, the President has said "we are fully aware of the dangers that lie ahead, but we are confident that we can surmount these dangers . . ."

In a heavy mist and drizzle, Mr. Truman took his daily early morning walk.

Aides said he was taking every precaution to provide a non-partisan backdrop for his foreign policy speech, avoiding any connection with California's hot U.S. senatorial and gubernatorial campaigns.

Every effort was made by the President's aides to keep Democratic candidates away from his quarters in the Fairmont hotel, after his arrival from Honolulu yesterday.

His major foreign policy pronouncement is scheduled for 8:30 p. m. (11:30 p. m. Salem time).

Four Homeless From Fire Set By Boys

ALLIANCE, Oct. 17—(AP)—Michael Mellito of the state arson bureau says three small boys have admitted starting a $10,000 fire which left Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kean and their 14-month-old twins homeless.

The boys are 7, 9 and 10 years old, Mellito said. The fire last Thursday was in a pavilion at Rockhill Park. Rooms occupied by the Kean family adjoined the pavilion.

Symington Sees More Sacrifice Ahead For U. S.

Higher Taxes, Longer Working Hours For Public Are Predicted

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—(AP)—The man in charge of mobilizing the nation for the huge rearmament program says it will mean that Americans must work longer hours, pay still higher taxes and endure "cuts and sacrifices" in their living standard.

And while it may be possible to avoid general wage and price controls if scarce buying slacks off, W. Stuart Symington said last night, "We are now getting organized . . . for such price and wage action as may be needed."

An assurance came today from a top agriculture department official that there is no need at present for price controls on farm commodities.

Only What's Necessary Ralph S. Trigg, the department's production and marketing administrator, said in an address prepared for delivery in Atlantic City, N. J., that "we most certainly do not want to put on any controls which are not absolutely necessary."

Trigg added that while stocks of nearly all farm products are now ample to take care of the nation's needs, "if the world situation got much worse and all out economic mobilization was necessary, then of course all bets would be off."

Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board, has been designated by President Truman to coordinate the mobilization program. In an interview with the magazine U.S. News and World Report made public last night, he reiterated administration warnings against any letdown in the national effort.

"I hope and trust the American people will realize that the essential threat, which is the strength of the growing Soviet war machine and the unpredictable but clearly aggressive intention of its leaders, will in no wise be diminished by the clearing up of the situation in Korea, he said.

Cutback Hinted A hint that some cutback in automobile production may be forthcoming came from William H. Harrison, chairman of the National Production Authority (NPA) and one of the top men under Symington.

After meeting yesterday with leaders of the auto industry, Harrison said they showed a "willingness to absorb any necessary impact on production that military needs might require."

Henry Ford II, head of the Ford Motor Co., said nothing took place at the meeting to point to a cut in auto production and Harrison agreed there were no "formal proposals."

Other informants said Harrison stressed the vast demands of the defense program for such materials as steel and invited the auto makers to suggest ways of meeting the demand. Harrison said the manufacturers proposed an expanded steel output.

Parents and students began picketing the school Sept. 5. A series of minor disturbances followed, and the Rock Hill district obtained from Judge Collier an injunction ordering the 21 parents to stop interfering. There were no classes at the school for 25 days.

Blind Salem Resident Loses Dog In Lisbon LISBON, Oct. 17—Gleason Wildman of 794 Arch st., Salem, reported to police that he lost his seeing eye dog today at 1:10 a. m.

He stated that he had been riding in a car here and when the driver stopped to fix a flat tire, the dog jumped out and disappeared.

SCARE FIRE ANSWERED Firemen answered a call to a scare fire at the Kroger Co. store, 462 E. Pershing st. at 7:13 p. m. Monday where smoke was caused by a heating plant in the basement. No damage was caused to the building.

Yanks, South Koreans Close In On Capital

TOKYO, Oct. 17—(AP)—American and South Korean columns slashed tonight through shattered Communist remnants within 18 miles of the Red Korean capital, Pyongyang.

Just over a month after the Allied tide turned on the landing at Inchon, the war was running swiftly toward victory for the United Nations.

The U. S. First Cavalry and the Republic of Korea (ROK) first divisions were racing each other for the Red capital. Each wanted to be first to level the knockout blow.

AP Correspondent Don Whitehead, with the Americans, reported the capital is certain to come within range of Allied big guns in 24 hours or less.

Military circles in Tokyo say the fall of Pyongyang almost certainly will end the Korean war except for mopup operations against guerrilla forces.

AP Correspondent Hal Boyle reported the Americans were driving on Pyongyang in a 30-mile long column.

The foot troopers were forging ahead Tuesday night through disrupted Red defenses. Boyle said they might reach Pyongyang by Wednesday.

ROK officers had trouble restraining the weary but eager South Korean troops from running along the road to Pyongyang.

Many of them had not stopped to rest for two days. They had fought back after a shattering military defeat—when the Reds invaded their southern half of Korea June 25—and the taste of victory was on their lips.

The South Koreans Tuesday drove from Suan to Sangwon, only 20 miles southeast of Pyongyang.

They smashed through the town another two miles, after linking up with another South Korean column.

There was no attempt to stop the drive at darkness.

In airline distance the gain was 20 miles. But it was much farther actually along the winding mountain road.

The U. S. First Cavalry division smashed nearly 30 miles from its kickoff point at Sohng. It bypassed Sariwon, 35 air miles south of Pyongyang, and drove over a secondary road into Hwangju, only 23 miles south of the Red capital on the main highway.

Then it swung northward so swiftly that the foot troopers seized a bridge before the surprised Red forces could blow it up. The foot troopers were within 20 miles or less of Pyongyang.

Both the Americans and ROKs were swinging along in open country along the flatland approaches to Pyongyang.

Behind the Americans, British and Australian Commonwealth brigade troops speed 31 miles to Sariwon and captured that highway city.

On the east coast, ROK First Corps elements rolled within sight of Korea's great industrial city of Hamhung and its port, Hungnam.

The Red radio at Pyongyang admitted: U. N. forces reinforced and "spearheaded by aircraft and tanks north of the 38th parallel are making heavy attacks."

The broadcast of the Tuesday night Red Korean army communique was heard in Tokyo. It added:

Red Resistance Shattered "On all fronts People's (communist army units) are carrying out heavy defense operations against the advancing enemy."

Field dispatches from AP correspondents, however, told a different story.

Organized Red resistance was shattered. Communist troops were surrendering by the hundreds. All along the slanting battlefront the Reds laid down their arms, retreated in confusion or fled into the hills in scattered bands.

Allied columns swept past great piles of supplies, arms and ammunition abandoned by the fleeing Reds.

A First Cavalry division spokesman said the enemy was leaving heavy weapons, anti-tank guns and other equipment beside the road. He added:

"In the past three days the division has captured hundreds of Red prisoners."

Supplies Move By Air For a time transport and supply problems had slowed the Allied advance more than Red resistance had. But only 24 hours after the fall of Sinmak Monday, Allied transports of the Far East Turn to CAPITAL, Page 14

Masonic Event Is Climaxed

Lodge's Centennial Highly Successful

The 100th anniversary celebration of Perry lodge No. 185, F. & A. M., will go down in Salem Masonic history as one of its most successful events.

The centennial program closed Sunday afternoon with a special dispensation of the lodge. The day marked the exact date of the charter, Oct. 15, 1850.

John Holzwarth, worshipful master, presided and introduced Rev. David Loegler of Cleveland, grand chaplain of the grand lodge of Ohio.

Rev. Loegler is rector of Trinity Cathedral Episcopal church, and also director of social relations for the Ohio Diocese of that denomination. He gave an inspiring talk stressing the character building aims of the Masonic fraternity.

Out-of-town dignitaries at this session were Jamie Cone of Warren, Robert Troesch of Youngstown and Robert Clay of Medina. Refreshments were served to 80 in the dining room by William Wark.

Mirth and good cheer reigned at a colorful anniversary party Saturday night. The banquet room was beautifully decorated in an autumn theme. Three hundred and twenty-five were served at the dinner. Music during the dinner was supplied by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dusenberry and Mrs. Carl J. Beecher.

Some of the guests came in old-time costumes which added to the spirit of the occasion.

W. W. Mulford, a 50-year member, was present for the festivities. Distinguished guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clay of Medina, Mr. and Mrs. Holland H. Wonder of Finley, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Troesch of Youngstown.

Other guests and friends of the lodge were from Youngstown, Pittsburgh, Warren, Alliance, Canfield, Lisbon, West Farmington, East Palestine, Sebring and Homeworth.

After the dinner a barber shop quartet provided entertainment and group singing was enjoyed. Oscar Pannier of Youngstown was master of ceremonies for round and square dancing. He was assisted by Musicians Nelson Bailey, Doc Lodge, James Jackson and Harold Sleeman.

Carol Girard Fund Now Totals $165

The fund to provide Carol Ann Girard, aged six, with an expensive drug has reached the one-sixth mark. The local Veterans of Foreign Wars post is conducting the drive for the little girl who is suffering from spinal meningitis and complications at City Hospital.

The drug, which costs $100 a day to administer, was originally prescribed for five days, but Carol Ann's doctor has extended the period, and the V.F.W. has set a goal of $1,000. Slightly more than $165 has been reported from six sources.

The veterans collected $28.46 at the football game Friday and $39.46 on downtown streets Saturday.

Volunteer treasurer E. M. Stephenson reports $55 from Dept. 120 at Mullins where her father, James Girard, is employed, $10 from the National Council of Jewish Women, $25 from the Gold Star auxiliary and $8 in mailed contributions.

Goshen Pupils Get Hot Meals

School Cafeteria
Promotes Health

THE modern school pupil is a better student and has a healthier body because of hot lunch programs like the one in operation at Goshen Union school at Damascus.

Used for the first time last year, the cafeteria is praised by the children and parents alike for the hot lunches of generous proportions.

Starting at 11 a. m. children from the first through 12th grades parade past the steam tables for heaping helpings of potatoes, other vegetables, fruit, meat, milk, bread and butter. The room seats 100 boys and girls.

Miss Daisy Stackhouse, home economics teacher, manages the cafeteria. She and her staff carefully check the meals for their nutritive value.

The pupils pay 20 cents a meal. The federal government, through state agencies, also pays six cents for each meal. Surplus foods are secured at a small fraction of their retail value. These include butter, potatoes, fruit and milk.

Three adult cooks prepare and serve the lunches with the assistance of high school girls who work part-time. The staff also serves a light lunch at 2 p. m. to first, second and third graders.

All equipment for the room was secured through public fund-raising projects in and around the school. At the present time there is a slight profit on the meals, according to C. G. Long, superintendent.

Columbiana

Resurfacing Of Streets Started

Completion Of Work
Expected Thursday

COLUMBIANA, Oct. 17—Kelley & Meyer, Youngstown contractors, began work Monday morning on the job of resurfacing the State Highway Department the Columbiana streets used as a detour during construction of the Route 7 bridge over the Pennsylvania Railroad, east of town in 1948-49.

Duquesne and South Main sts. from the east corporation line to the Public Square, a distance of about 4,100 feet, are the streets to be resurfaced. Work started on Duquesne st at the corporation line, which is being resurfaced its full width, 22 feet and four inches. To South Main st, which is being resurfaced its full width, 28 feet and two inches, to the Pennsylvania Railroad. Main st, north of the Pennsylvania Railroad, is 40 feet wide to the Public Square, and will be surfaced only to the parking lanes, seven feet on each side.

A hot mix black top is being used. With continued sunshine, the contractors expect to complete the work by Wednesday or Thursday.

FAIRFIELD township has been honored by the Columbiana County Public Health League for having made the highest contribution per capita to the league's Christmas seal sale last year of any subdivision in the county. Mark Klingensmith, Fairfield township chairman, was honored with a blue ribbon for the township at the pre-seal sale dinner in Lisbon last week. The sale this year will begin Nov. 20.

MRS. EDGAR RAPP and Mrs. John Sittler, advisors of the Gay Sisters' 4-H club, attended a recognition banquet for Columbiana county advisors in the Methodist church in Lisbon, Saturday evening. There were more than 200 present. Mrs. Rapp was elected a member of the county 4-H board. The Gay Sisters are planning a Halloween party, date and place to be announced.

Columbiana Briefs:

The Loyal Men and Women's class of the Christian church will hold its October meeting at the church at 8 p. m., Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. William Longshore will have charge of the entertainment. Roll call responses will be on "Superstitions." Eleanor Townsend and Edna Stouffer will be hostesses.

The civil defense organization for Columbiana will meet Thursday in the assembly room of city hall at 8 p. m. George Seederly was appointed recently by Mayor

E. L. Calvin to head the organization, which will meet the third Thursday of every month.

The Philo class of the Methodist church will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday in the church. Mrs. Roberta Richmond, Mrs. Louise Gormley, Mrs. Kathryn Foertch and Mrs. Dorothy Hoffman are the committee.

The annual booth festival of the Columbiana county Methodist Youth Fellowship will be held in First church, East Liverpool, Monday, Oct. 30, when canned goods and produce are collected for the children's home at Berea and the old people's home at Elvira. Donations are to be at the local church by Sunday Oct. 29.

The Columbiana Clippers will play Friday evening at Boardman.

Edward Webber, carpenter contractor who was injured by a fall from a scaffold at the H. C. Nolan residence on North Vine st last week was brought home yesterday from Salem City Hospital, where it was found his injuries were not as serious as at first feared.

Dr. George Myers, Columbiana dentist, injured in an automobile accident near Negley last week, suffered a broken pelvis and will be laid up for some time.

215 4-H Advisors At Lisbon Dinner

LISBON, Oct. 17—The 4-H club advisors' dinner was held in the Methodist church here Saturday evening with an attendance of 215.

Miss Erma Ramseyer of Warren, former Columbiana county home demonstration agent, spoke on "A Summer in Europe." She had chaperoned a group of 45 college students on a European tour which had been conducted for the purpose of creating a better understanding between other countries and the United States.

The group had worked for a month on the rehabilitation of a German town.

Miss Ramseyer showed slides of the agricultural program in Europe, and 4-H awards were presented.

Shades Of Short And Kimmel
REMEMBER Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short? They were the commanders on the scene when Japan struck its blow at Pearl Harbor. Washington wasted no time in making them the goats.

Their defense was that they were not kept in sufficiently close touch with the high command in Washington to know what was imminent. Subsequent evidence that the high command in Washington itself was too loosely organized to know what was imminent was a major factor in the military reorganization which came to be known as unification.

Again there has been an attempt to blame someone else for a military fumble. Gen. MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo has been blamed for not telling Washington that North Korea was preparing to invade South Korea. So has central intelligence agency.

The latter has defended itself, to no avail. MacArthur's headquarters has defended itself, perhaps to more avail. Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, Gen. MacArthur's chief of intelligence, has pointed out that on Jan. 5 and again on May 25 his office reported that the Korean Reds were ready for an assault; that the reports were sent to Washington and that nothing more was heard of them.

Among the things talked about by President Truman and Gen. MacArthur over the weekend may have been the propriety of designating "fall guys" to take the heat off Washington when policy-makers fumble the ball.

New Political Divisions

IT SHOULD have ceased to be surprising by this time that party lines in politics have been scrambled since the presidential election of 1932.

Certainly it should not be surprising that the Ohio showdown between those who want Robert A. Taft re-elected to the U.S. Senate and those who don't is more than a showdown between Republicans and Democrats.

Mr. Taft's friends in the election are Ohioans who want to preserve the principle of legislative independence. His opponents are Ohioans who want to pack Congress with legislators who will represent them exclusively. They want to set up one-party government.

The significant thing about the senatorial election, as far as Democrats are concerned, is that the only way they can save their party is by defeating those who control it.

At various times and depending on varying points of view, it has seemed that the key to the outcome of the senatorial election was the over-all size of the union-directed vote, the size of the Republican vote, or the proportions of these votes which would go to Mr. Taft or his opponent.

It may well be that a more important key will be the size of the Democratic vote which will go to Taft, against the labor-union strategists using the Democratic party label to defeat, if possible, the principle that a legislator in Congress should not be owned outright by any pressure group.

If Ohio Democrats who have supported Joseph T. Ferguson as a party candidate for state auditor are unable to support him for election to the Senate, that will be a very important key in the Ohio election of 1950. By this time every Democrat in the state must know that the people behind Mr. Ferguson are not there as Democrats. They are there because they believe Ferguson will eat out of their hands if they can send him to the U.S. Senate instead of the man already on the job.

Bokwharulvinroz

THE silly head at the top of this observation is supposed to convey the idea of jammed-up confusion.

Chances are if you tried to read it aloud it would sound no better or worse than almost anything else you might read aloud if you weren't showing off for company. Hence this observation: At least 99 out of every 100 of us Americans talk as if we had a mouthful of pins. Listen critically sometime.

A speech-recording outfit in New York City stirred up a hornet's nest of angry comment by saying that this and that city have particularly bad habits of speech. The truth is no city can point with pride to the clearness of its inhabitants' speech. Sloppy talk is an American custom.

There may be nothing wrong with it. Some believe there is no connection between inability to write a simple sentence, to spell simple words and to understand simple statements.

Be that as it may, many a village idiot in the old days used to be able to express himself better than many a high school and college graduate in the days of present glory—ray fertha reh, wite un bloot!

British Housewives

By PETER EDSON

They Still Stand In Ration Lines

LONDON
WHILE the American housewife grumbles increasingly at high prices in the midst of apparent plenty, her British cousin has an exactly opposite complaint to make. Here prices are kept down by careful controls and subsidies that have not been lifted since the war. But supplies are limited, and carefully rationed or allocated.

Many young British wives who have been married in the past ten years have never known any other system. They have never had the experience of going into a free market and buying all of everything they wanted and could afford to pay for. Here there is a constant hunt for enough. The family shopper who is not always on the prowl when fresh supplies are brought to her stores may not get her proper share.

Things are better now than during the war, of course. Clothing is no longer rationed. Fish, fresh fruits and vegetable rations were recently lifted. Coal is still rationed. There is still a terrible housing shortage. Newly-married couples may register for new accommodations, but the waiting lists are long. At present rates of construction, the applicants may not be able to move in for years.

RENTS are still tightly controlled in an effort to keep down the cost of living. The controls apply, however, only on new housing and an accommodation "rated" for tax purposes at 100 pounds (200 dollars) a year. And on all properties for rents, the landlords have found ways to charge extra for furnishings and the extras.

Every housewife must register with one store and buy her rationed foods there. On the foods that are allocated instead of rationed, the allocations are given to the stores whenever supplies are available, and the store divides up the supply. In summer, the allocation of things like milk and eggs is greater than in winter. When no supply, no allocation.

The British ration list today looks like this:
All fats are rationed to about a half pound per person a week. Say four ounces of margarine, three ounces of butter, two ounces of lard.

Sugar is rationed four ounces per person per week.

The bacon ration has varied from two to four ounces a week, per person.

The meat ration is one shilling and four pence worth per week per person, which means the equivalent of two chops a week. Usually the family saves rations to buy the weekly "joint" which has so long been British standard fare. Cooked meat and sausages, five shillings worth a week.

Butchers are controlled on how they cut the meat. They can't fillet out steaks, but have to cut them up as part of the joint. The bones, as in purchase of half a leg of lamb, are weighed in as part of the meat, and at the same price.

Cheese is rationed, if made in England, to two ounces a week. Imported cheese is unrationed, but prices are higher.

TEA IS RATIONED to two ounces a week per person, which isn't nearly enough for a nation of tea drinkers, when a half-pound will make only four or five pots.

Children get a tea ration. Children under five get half the quantity of meat and more milk and eggs. In winter the milk supply may get down to two pints a week. In summer it is two or three pints a day. Children and people over 70 get two bananas a week, since this is one fruit still in short supply.

Every effort is made to increase the children's food supply. There are free orange juice and cod liver oil at schools, and there is a government subsidizing school lunch at noon.

All rationed foods are subsidized, in fact, except candy. The candy ration is a pound and a quarter per person per month.

Britishers still queue up for everything on the ration list. The wonder is that they do it uncomplainingly. There is no black market. There is a good supply of food in the restaurants, and there is a lot of eating out if the family can afford it, to supplement meager rations. Restaurants get allocations in accordance with past experience and trade, but there seems to be some padding of clientele to get bigger allocations. Clubs that serve meals limit their guest lists.

There is a shortage of Scotch whisky, most of which goes into the export program. But the pubs still do a booming business. That's like always.

Ducking a Duck

By TRUMAN TWILL

A LADY of our acquaintance has been trying to sell us a duck ever since last Easter and seems hurt because we are ducking her duck.

It is not the purpose of this or any other effusion appearing in this corner to libel anything that does not need to be libeled but anyone who takes up with ducks is ripe for psychiatry.

His tottering sanity is out-tottered only by the idiocy of a slap-lipped drool-puss who takes two ducks, of opposite sex. This is as good a place as any for this libelous outburst to get down to brass quacks.

The two ducks we took—of opposite sexes—seemed harmless. In fact, they seemed to be incompatible. After an interval of mild moral concern they were not even thought of as units in a he-and-she equation any more. If this sounds obscure to the kiddies, explain it to them, someone, before they jump to the conclusion it says more than it is supposed to say.

What we were interested in at the time more than ducks begetting ducks was hi-jacking; i.e., stealing duck eggs, if any, as soon as mama duck began to knit on little things, if ever. When a fellow feeds ducks and is patient, shutting thoughts of roast duck out of his mind, he has a right to brood about duck egg on his chin after breakfast.

There never were any duck eggs. The potential breakfasts were hidden from view until the collection reached sizable proportions, whereupon the mama duck sat on same and produced more ducks. So 2 ducks became 13 ducks, all eating their heads off, wagging their tails, bathing in their drinking water, then drinking their bath water.

Furthermore, through some foul play, the boy ducks and the girl ducks cannot be distinguished from each other by Sappho Homiens, though there is probably no confusion about this among the boy and girl ducks. These are, incidentally, white ducks, which is one of the sources of confusion.

Then eat huge quantities of extremely expensive feed and consume enough water to quench all the fires in the northeast corner of Hades. They waddle and do everything a duck is supposed to do, but they have laid not a single egg. Nor a double-yolk egg. Nor an egg in any form. They have no redeeming features—not even the ability to lay square eggs, ouch!

That, lady, is why we are not willing to buy a duck. Remember Joe Penner? It finally has become clear what the poor guy used to be up against when he squawked over the radio: "Wanna buy a duck?" He was desperate.

His life had been crossed by a duck. Rather, by two ducks—and Joe was trying to get rid of the consequences, one at a time. Just be thankful, lady, that it's only one duck you have to peddle. If it were more, it might be 22 by this time.

"I must have a little chat with Junior again—the last man-to-man talk we had I learned plenty!"

Aw, What's the Use?

Wake Conference Creates Prestige

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON
PSYCHOLOGICALLY, President Truman accomplished a great deal not only for his own prestige but also for the position of General MacArthur in Asia by the dramatic meeting at Wake Island. Specifically the significance of the occasion might be summarized this way:

1. To a vast public throughout the world, the President gave the impression that he and General MacArthur are in complete harmony in seeking to earn the good will of the Asiatic peoples by the disinterested and unselfish efforts of the United States.

2. The President expressed on behalf of the American people their gratitude toward General MacArthur and through him to the armed forces for the splendid victory in Korea.

3. Whatever ill feeling or misunderstanding may have arisen a few weeks ago—due to the clumsy order to MacArthur to withdraw the message on Formosa he sent to the convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars—has been removed. There is conspicuous evidence now of confidence by the President in MacArthur.

4. The very fact that the visit between Mr. Truman and the general took only an hour is an indication of the importance of the personal contact rather than what was said at the meeting.

5. Mr. Truman removed all doubts in Europe that he and MacArthur were working together on major policies of all kinds. Many Americans lose sight of the meaning that reports of friction can have among foreign offices abroad. This in turn makes it difficult to get support for important resolutions bearing on far eastern matters when they arise in the U.N. and when the position and prestige of MacArthur as U.N. commander is involved.

IT IS A SAFE bet that the general did most of the talking in that single hour of the meeting. Undoubtedly the general, who is quite a brilliant conversationalist, gave the President a fascinating description of the Korean war and what lies ahead. The job is far from finished on the military side. Also delicate problems of civil administration and liberation of North Korea are yet to be tackled.

As for Formosa, this is now a U. N. matter. It couldn't be settled at the Wake conference. The plan is to set up a U.N. commission to study the disposition of the island on an international basis. Action may not come till next year on the final plan but meanwhile the United States will move to get the U.N. to cooperate in maintaining the status quo. The hope is to have American and Allied naval forces stationed there to protect Formosa against invasion. The idea is to keep these naval forces there indefinitely in order to discourage Communist China from starting anything that could lead to war.

As for the setup in Korea, MacArthur feels that President Rhee should be confirmed in his present position and that the South Korean government now in existence should be able to take over in the north only after elections have been held in that area similar to those which took place in South Korea under U.N. auspices. Dr. Rhee has a constitutional term to serve which runs until 1952. There is no disposition on the part of the United States to concur in the views of some nations that want him ousted. To upset Dr. Rhee as head of the government would, in the opinion of high officials, mean a blow to American prestige not only in South Korea but in the Far East.

THE HOSTILITY to Dr. Rhee comes from Communist sympathizers and from certain advisers among U.N. nations who are leftish in their viewpoint and want to appease Communism in the Far East. All in all, this probably didn't come in for detailed discussion at the Truman-MacArthur meeting where there was time for only broad points of view.

As for the effect on the Democratic party's fortunes in the election, the value of the Wake Island meeting remains yet to be appraised. It still is a far cry from high taxes, draft, neglected reservists, knuckling down to labor union bosses, on the one hand, and the newsreel photos of MacArthur and Truman clapping hands in celebration of a victory that Truman nearly lost by listening to advisers who almost scuttled the navy and marine corps. For without the brilliant help of both, the victory wouldn't have been won so soon and, politically speaking, there would have been a landslide at the polls against the Democrats.

Red City

By TOM LAMBERT

(For Hal Boyle)

War Brings Destruction

KUMCHON

THIS is a city, the largest yet taken by the Americans in Red Korea, to which Communism brought nothing but destruction and an abelisk.

The obelisk, a four-sided, five-tiered concrete tower, looms starkly amid the ruins of Kumchon. Its inscriptions extoll long life for Stalin, the Soviet army, North Korea's Red leader Kim Il Sung and the Communist party.

Cavalry foot troopers commanded by Lt. Col. Paul Clifford, Franklin, N. H., entered the battered and broken city early Saturday.

The Reds must have left shortly before. In several houses there were half-eaten bowls of rice and bunches of freshly picked vegetables. One of the few prisoners taken said a reinforced battalion had withdrawn late Friday night.

Mud huts lie powdered into dust by allied bombs. Their roofs of galvanized iron glint dully on the ground.

There was only a handful of civilians in the ruined city. Some said the retreating Red army had warned the population—estimated at 25,000—that the Americans would assault their women, burn their homes and steal their food.

One woman who said she was the wife of a Red soldier told interrogators that the Communists threatened to kill Kumchon's residents if they didn't flee with the Red army.

THE EERIE absence of civilians made it impossible to learn of the pattern of life under the Communists.

But there are a multitude of indications the Reds had been here.

Pictures of Stalin and Kim Il Sung show everywhere. There are many copies of Russian language magazines and newspapers, although it is doubtful if many Koreans read Russian. There are stocks of Russian-made military equipment. There are Communist posters galore in the Russian and Korean languages.

And there is the obelisk, dominating the city.

In the police station are files of Korean language newspapers, with pictures purporting to show atrocities by the South Koreans against the Reds.

Kumchon's rail yards are a jumble of twisted iron and splintered wood. The sides of burned and charred freight cars stand out like ribs of a skeleton.

There is no indication that life under the Reds had been any better here than in South Korea.

There are no new buildings. The houses are the same poor mud and lathe affairs one finds in the south. There are no new roads. An air of poverty hangs over the place, age-old dilapidation which the new destruction of war and bombs cannot conceal.

Prowling Americans found nothing of souvenir value. But two South Koreans did. They proudly lugged a hamper of smelly dried fish down the main street—the spoils of war. Communist Kumchon is a prize hardly worth the winning.

IT COULD HAVE HAPPENED ONLY IN AMERICA!

ALL THROUGH HISTORY—

GOVERNMENTS OF "SUPERIOR" MEN HAD POWER OVER THE PEOPLE.
MEN RULED BY THEIR CHANGING OPINIONS, INSTEAD OF BY LAW.
MEN HAVE ALWAYS MISUSED THIS POWER...

THEY PROMISED TO PROVIDE BETTER THINGS FOR THE PEOPLE,
THEY PLANNED THE WAY PEOPLE SHOULD WORK AND LIVE.
THEY TOOK AWAY THE PEOPLE'S GOD-GIVEN FREEDOM
THEY ADDED TO THE DESTRUCTION OF SOCIETY

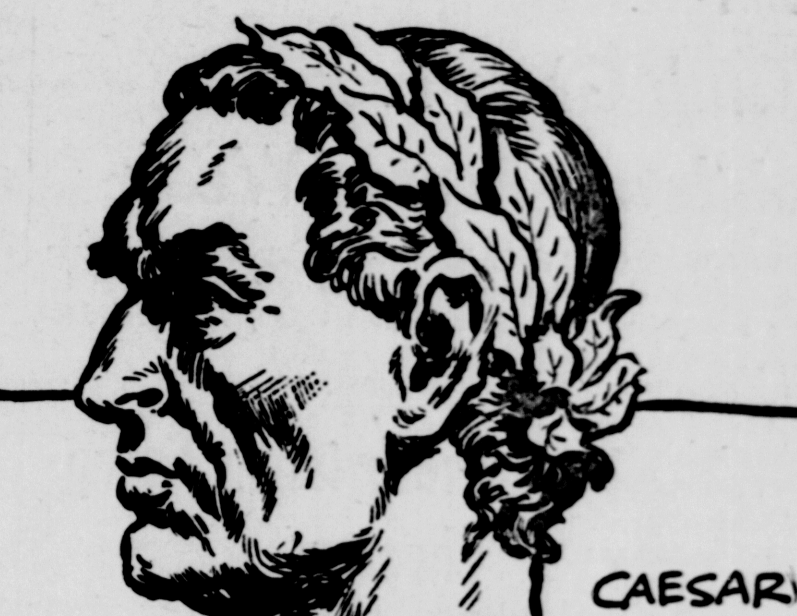

OUR EARLY AMERICAN GOVERNMENT WAS NEW AND DIFFERENT—

ITS MAIN PURPOSE WAS TO PROTECT EVERY MAN IN HIS RIGHT TO LIFE, LIBERTY AND HIS RIGHT TO PURSUE HAPPINESS, SO LONG AS HE DID NOT INTERFERE WITH THOSE SAME RIGHTS OF ANY OTHER MAN.

EVERY MAN WAS FREE TO PLAN, WORK AND EARN FOR HIMSELF!
GOVERNMENT PROMISED NOTHING BUT PROTECTION OF BASIC RIGHTS!

THUS BEGAN THE—

GREATEST ENTERPRISE IN FREEDOM THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN!

HOW LONG CAN IT LAST?

OUR AMERICAN WAY OF LIVING AND WORKING TOGETHER CAN IMPROVE & LAST FOREVER—

①- IF WE, AS FREE INDIVIDUALS, IMPROVE OUR INDIVIDUAL CONDUCT AND BEHAVIOR TOWARD OTHERS
...IF WE ACCEPT OUR INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY
THAT GOES WITH INDIVIDUAL FREEDOM

② IF WE INSIST THAT OUR GOVERNMENT BE USED TO PROTECT EVERY MAN IN HIS RIGHT
TO LIFE, LIBERTY AND THE PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS, SO LONG AS HE DOES NOT INTERFERE WITH THESE SAME RIGHTS OF ANY OTHER MAN.

THIS RESULTED IN—

THE GREATEST ECONOMIC PROGRESS
IN ALL THE YEARS OF RECORDED HISTORY!

FBI Report Shows Crime Continuing Upswing RURAL AREAS SHOW LARGER RATE OF INCREASE THAN CITIES

The nation's postwar crime wave continued upward during the first half of 1950, with the greatest percentage of increase—7.4 per cent—over the first half of 1949 reported in rural areas. Greatest increase, in rural areas, was in burglaries. Negligent manslaughter and auto theft—on the increase in the cities—were each down in rural reports.

Crime in the cities during the first half of 1950 was up 1.9 per cent over the same period in 1949, according to the FBI's semiannual report. Negligent manslaughter saw the steepest rise—19.8 per cent over the preceding year; auto theft was next with 3.2 per cent. Three crimes—murder, rape and robbery—declined slightly during the period.

Home Nursing Service Here Carries On Red Cross Work

THE Salem Home Nursing Service represents a new red feather agency in name only to participate in this year's Community Fund Association drive. It is the outgrowth of nursing benefits offered in the Salem area for the past 30 years.

The service was incorporated this past summer with Attorney South Metzger appointed as president of the board of directors; Albert Hanna is vice president and Mrs. George Emeny and O. A. Naragon are secretary and treasurer, respectively. Others on the board are R. S. McCulloch, Jr., Miss Mary Bunn and Mrs. George Kyle.

The new service replaces the nursing service offered through the Red Cross chapter, which was discontinued on July 1.

Miss Hazel Linn, executive secretary of the Red Cross chapter, said that the national organization has discontinued its nursing service all over the country. While the Red Cross pioneered in the public nursing field, its officials are now giving this work to community public health units. Thus, the need for a local service was continued.

Mrs. Augusta Ibele, Red Cross nurse for seven years, has been retained by the new service. There is no change in her work, which heretofore has been home nursing, bedside care, etc. Nor is there any interruption in its scope which includes service to the Rotary club's crippled children's project.

DAILY DOZEN By Bob Dixon

• Odds and ends from a full week of football: The Quakers, Army and the Browns drew our attention to the grid-iron last weekend and provided a study in the various degrees of proficiency as the game is played by high schoolers, collegians and pros.

• First a few random statistics on Salem's team, which is having a comparatively high scoring year. Halfback Bobby Theiss is the current apple of Ben Barberton's eye, due to his steadily improving running. The boy turned in his best game against Wellsville.

• Theiss has five touchdowns and two extra points to his credit, has gained 417 yards in 52 tries. His average per run is an even eight yards. At his current rate, he'll surpass the yardage gained marks established by Walter Ehrhart a few years back.

• The Quakers have scored 123 points on 19 touchdowns to date, holding the opposition to 25. Jim Callahan has passed for seven scores and two extra points and is hard on the heels of his 1949 record, when he tossed eight TD passes.

• Cage coach Johnny Cabas, who has been scouting the Lisbon Blue Devils, says he knows Lisbon's team better than he does Salem's. In fact, Friday night at Sebring he served as spotter for the announcer when the Lisbon spotter failed to show up.

• Watching the Michigan - Army game on TV Saturday we were in awe of the Wolverine offensive, one of the trickiest imaginable. Utilizing variations of the "T", winged "T", single wing and double wing, Michigan makes it tough to follow the ball. Their hard-working spinning fullback handles the ball on almost every play, handing off, faking and hitting the line. It must take a back a year to absorb that system, a creation of Fritz Crisler.

• Army's big fullback, Al Polard, the former Southern California schoolboy star, was the big difference in the tilt. He broke Michigan's back with end runs. Doc Blanchard couldn't have been much better.

• Sunday's Brown - Cardinal game was the best of all. One of the most exciting we've seen in Cleveland in five years. Again the Browns went about spotting their key-up opposition points and then came roaring back to snatch the game away in the last half.

• It was a vicious, hard-hitting game, with at least one player being seriously hurt. He was Len Ford, Browns end, who was rapped by Pat Harder, Chicago's bull-dozing fullback. He lost three teeth and got a broken nose.

• Otto Graham turned in one of his best passing shows, completing 24 passes. He compiled a high average because he simply refused to throw when his receivers capita.

Barberton Now Second In Ohio Grid Rating

Tigers Retain No. 1 Position

Quakers Boosted To 22nd; McKinley Drops

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Oct. 17—(AP)—Coach Chuck Mather's mighty Massillon are still pacing Ohio's high school football teams, and are favored to snare their third straight title if their most serious challengers continue to get upset.

The terrific Tigers, who whipped Alliance 29-7 Friday for their fifth straight win, were the first place choice of 20 of 27 newspaper and radio sports editors participating in the Associated Press "Top 10" poll.

Mansfield started the season as runner-up, but lost to Alliance which moved into second place. Barberton dumped Alliance, and Canton McKinley grabbed the runner-up spot. Last week Toledo Waite noded out McKinley 20-19, and Barberton's Magics took over.

McKinley, although defeated, and Alliance—absorbing its second loss—stayed in the top ten, Canton skidding to fifth place and the Aviators to ninth. Toledo Waite, which wasn't among the top 40 a week ago, jumped all the way to 11th place.

From here and there: Barberton meets Canton Lincoln this week, while Massillon plays Mansfield—only team to whip the Tigers a year ago...Canton

TEAMS	POINTS
Massillon (20)	255
Barberton	203
Hamilton (3)	193
Springfield (1)	182
Canton McKinley	127
Sandusky (1)	85
Portsmouth (1)	71
Lima Central	67
Alliance	29
New Philadelphia	28

Others mentioned: Toledo Waite 25, Friday 20, Cincinnati Purcell (1) 15, Circleville 17, Upper Arlington 15, Warren 13, Youngstown South 13, Lakewood 13, Canton Central Catholic 12, Cincinnati Elder 10, Lorain 9, Akron St Ignace 8, Toledo Scott 8, Salem 8, Dayton Chaminade 8, Mansburg 8, Youngstown East 8, Columbus North 7, Akron South 7, Akron Buchtel 5, Greenhills 5, Taylor 4, Toledo Devilbiss 3, Campbell 2, Girard 2, Mansfield 1, Mifflin 1, Marysville, Wyoming 1.

McKinley's loss to Toledo Waite was the first for the Bulldogs to anyone but Massillon since Canton Lincoln noded 'em 7-6 in 1947. (Lincoln lost 27-6 to Youngstown last week.)

LOUISVILLE'S 22-game victory streak was halted 27-14 by Youngstown Boardman, five fumbles within the Boardman 20-yard-line wrecking the Leopards. Jim Kennedy of Zanesville Lash passed for three touchdowns in the last few minutes to whip Newark 27-18. But Warren Harding came up with the real Merriwell finish—a four-yard touchdown pass in the final 14 seconds to hand Campbell Memorial its first loss, 19-13.

That last minute touchdown almost landed two Warren Harding coaches in jail. As the score was marked up, assistant Adrian Castilla leaped a fence to the playing field to congratulate his boys, but a policeman nabbed him. Head coach Chuck Riffle tried to help by introducing him to the officer, who countered by taking both to a patrol car. The Campbell Memorial principal, S. S. Parenti, made like the Marines and came to the rescue.

Cincinnati Purcell, dumped a week ago, came back to trim Dayton Chaminade 20-13, first loss for the Gem City crew. Salem made 88 yards on one series of downs from Wellsville's 44, but failed to score as two touchdowns were called back—but Salem won its fifth, 24-0.

The long-runners and heavy scorers had quite a weekend. Claude (Cat) Neeley, Hamilton's Negro flash, got four touchdowns as the Big Blue whipped previously unbeaten Steubenville Catholic 46-0, scoring on runs of six, 55, 25 and 29 yards, but failing by nine yards on a 90-yarder... Archie Sandusky scored 25 points for Gahanna against New Albany, giving him 86 for five tilts.

Upper Arlington's Doug Goodsell booted his point total to 108 with two touchdowns against Bexley. Longest run of the weekend was a 100-yard pass interception runback by Cliff Johnson of Youngstown North against Sharpville, Pa.

FRIDAY THE 13th was lucky for Lancaster. In three losing games the Golden Gales had scored 13 points each time, but last week they gave Cambridge the 13 and ran up 32 for themselves.

Coach Glenn Ellison's Middletown team isn't as rugged as usual, but you may look for the Middies to be spoilers the rest of the way—maybe against unbeaten Lima Central this week.... Portsmouth's 19-0 win over the Middies was only the seventh Middletown whitewash in 88 games.

Sandusky's Blue Streaks, who

HERB JOHNSON (left, foreground), Army back, and an unidentified teammate (rear) do some fancy stepping as Johnson snares a pass intended for Lowell Perry (right), Michigan end, in third period of game at Yankee Stadium, New York. Len Ford Escapes Bert Bell's Fine

CLEVELAND, Oct. 17—(AP)—Len Ford, the Cleveland Browns griddler who underwent surgery yesterday for injuries suffered in a game against the Chicago Cardinals, has one less worry today.

He is not going to be fined $50 by Bert Bell, National Professional Football League commissioner. The end suffered a broken nose, a broken cheek bone, two knocked out teeth and a broken forehead bone.

While he was on the operating table, coach Paul Brown got a telegram from Bell saying Ford was fined for slugging. The rules infraction was supposed to have been on the play when Ford was injured and the Browns penalized.

Brown telephoned the commissioner and reported Ford was being operated on. The fine was rescinded.

The injuries came when Ford, on defense, rushed quarterback Jim Hardy and was blocked by Pat Harder.

Coach Brown was somewhat put out to have his club penalized when it was his player who was injured.

attracted 8,000 fans as they whipped Fremont Ross 29-7, are averaging 255 yards rushing to 97 for the foe in five wins... Among the top games this week is Springfield-Hamilton, both unbeaten and ranked fourth and third in the Big Ten. They are expected to attract 11,000 fans... Springfield coach Jim McDonald says, "We're the underdog in this one, with seven regulars limping."

Big games still to come are Barberton-Massillon Nov. 10, and Massillon - Canton McKinley the following week—with the state title probably riding on each.

Young Bill Hess, who had an unbeaten team last year at Grandview Heights, has Portsmouth heading back to the football heights. His Trojans have a tie with Springfield and four wins, including Friday's 19-0 nod over Middletown—after winning only a 13-12 game over Cincinnati Central Vocational a year ago.

Jesse Owens Fed at Dinner Tonight

CHICAGO, Oct. 17—(AP)—Jesse Owens, still as trim as his record-setting days in the mid 30s, will be honored tonight at a banquet by sports and civic leaders.

The one-time Ohio State athlete, voted the top track star of the first half century, now is employed in helping combat juvenile delinquency in a Chicago program.

The sleek Negro set three world records and tied another in the 1935 Western Conference meet at Ann Arbor, Mich. He whipped the world's best in the 100 and 200 meters during the 1936 Olympics at Berlin. He also triumphed in the broad jump at the games and anchored the winning U. S. 400 meter relay team.

Owens barely beat out Ralph Metcalfe, the former Marquette sprinter, in the Olympic 100.

"Winning the 100 meters was my biggest thrill," said Owens. K. L. (Tug) Wilson, Big Ten athletic commissioner, is chairman of the dinner, to be held at the grand ballroom of the Sheraton hotel. Metcalfe, now a member of the Illinois athletic commission, is on the dinner committee.

Ohio State Warned About Gopher Tilt

COLUMBUS, Oct. 17—(AP)—Ohio State's football team was warned by scouts yesterday they might be in for a rough afternoon next Saturday against Minnesota at Minneapolis.

Esko Sarkkinen, former All-America end who scouts for the Bucks had this to say when he reported back in Columbus after watching the Gophers lose to Washington, Nebraska and Northwestern:

"Give Minnesota a few breaks and a touchdown lead and Ohio State would be in for a very rough afternoon."

He attributed Minnesota's early setbacks to inexperience and injuries to key players.

The Buckeyes drilled on pass defense yesterday—a department where they've been vulnerable.

Coach Wes Fesler told newsmen that "Tony Curcillo will call

Charles Signs New Title Bout

Meets Nick Barone On Nov. 28 In Cincy

NEW YORK, Oct. 17—(AP)—Ezzard Charles will fight as a 14-karat champion for the first time in his career when he defends his heavyweight title against Nick Barone in a 15-round bout at Cincinnati Nov. 28.

Jake Mintz, Charles' manager, made the announcement yesterday.

Charles won the NBA title in June, 1949, when he defeated Jersey Joe Walcott. He was recognized in all states but New York, and there were some who refused to recognize him at all. Not while Joe Louis was around, they said.

But Charles whipped the Brown Bomber and earned national recognition. So from now on he will pick up the champion's share of the purse, which will be 42 1/2 per cent this time.

Barone, a native of Syracuse, N. Y., will get 17 1/2 per cent, plus an unexpected crack at the biggest prize of all.

Ranked sixth among the light heavyweights, he is a crowd pleasing fighter with a stiff right punch, but short on experience.

The receipts, promoter Sam Becker predicted, should hit $100,000. Prices for the 15-000-capacity Cincinnati Garden will be scaled from $2.50 to $15.

The fight, believed to be the first heavyweight title in Cincinnati history, will mark Charles' first appearance before the home folk since he defeated Walcott.

Minerva Defeats Salem Junior High

Two first half touchdowns gave Minerva Junior High a 13-7 victory over Salem's eighth grade eleven at Reilly field Saturday. A blocked punt led to the second TD by the visitors.

George Mordew, Salem halfback, ran 85 yards for the locals only score during the second half. Ray Hertel converted the extra point.

The next game for the Junior High is against Sebring at 4 Thursday at Reilly stadium.

The lineup:
Ends—Ehrhart, Jones.
Tackles—Crawford, Lippiatt.
Guards—Domencetti, Fitzpatrick.
Center—Garlock.
Backs—Hertel, Mordew, Alexander, Todd.

2 Teams Tie For First In Touch Grid League

Deville's Grocery and the Western Stars moved into a tie for 1st place in the Touch Football League after winning their games Sunday afternoon at Centennial Park.

The Deville team shaded the Northerners 6-0 and the Stars edged the Amvets 7-0. Hoppes Tires noded out Wattersons 26-18 in other game played.

Army football teams were battling 700 before the 1950 campaign—the Cadets had won 358 games, lost 117 and tied 36 since the Academy began playing football in 1890.

Care Of Corn Pickers Advised

Poultry Cannibalism Explained By Experts

OHIO FARMERS can take more and cleaner corn from their fields with less labor, expense and danger to themselves this fall if they adjust and operate their pickers properly.

Extension Agricultural Engineer S. G. Huber and Farm Safety Specialist W. E. Stucky agree that improper adjustment and operation of corn pickers cause clogging, poor picking and increase accidents.

Some adjustments you would expect to make before starting to pick are tightening bolts, replacing worn and broken parts, checking chain, belt and slip clutch tensions, and lubricating.

Safety-minded folks check all shields before they take their pickers to the field and specialists say that all others should. Huber and Stucky say other adjustments may have to be made after a picker actually goes into operation.

Power-take-off speed should be 15 to 20 r.p.m. or the speed recommended in your instruction manual. Increasing the speed of gathering chains will help pick up down corn.

Finger links on one chain should run midway between two links on the other chain. Engineers say gathering chains, "out of time," will pull corn stalks into the picker in bunches.

After the stalks pass the gathering chains, corn will be wasted if snapping and husking rolls aren't working right. Snapping rolls close together will handle stalks that are small or tough. Large, dry and frozen stalks require a wide setting.

If rolls are too far apart, however, corn shelling may result. Too high speed of snapping rolls will cause stalk breakage, clogging and shelling.

Special lugs or pegs on your snapping and husking rolls will help to decrease clogging.

CHICKENS SEEM to have "Jekyll-Hyde personalities" in their tendencies to start or stop cannibalism, implies Mahlon C. Sweet, extension poultryman.

"Sometimes if a chick only a few days old gets a bloody toe, other soft, downy little chicks will practically pick the toe off."

Sweet outlines two lines of cannibalism control. One he calls nutritional prevention and consists of feeding the most complete diet possible.

Management is a most important control measure, Sweet believes. He says it seems to be a factor about which the most can be done. Management to control cannibalism consists of seven practices:

Prevent overcrowding; provide adequate feeders and waterers; provide devices to keep birds busy—hang an old catalog, cabbage head or ham rind where birds must jump for it; paint window glasses with red paint; use anti-pick salves; apply mechanical anti-pick devices, and debeak.

The poultry specialist says debeaking is probably the surest means of controlling cannibalism. Pullets should be debeaked in the laying house by removing one-fourth to three-eighths of an inch from the upper beak.

If three-eighths of an inch is trimmed off, then one-eighth inch should be trimmed from the lower beak to keep it from growing so fast.

Beak trimming should be done with a heated knife or iron which cauterizes and prevents bleeding.

COIN SHORTAGE PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17—(AP)—Employees of the Philadelphia mint are working overtime to meet a shortage of pennies and other coins.

Telephone boxes and automatic stamp machines in England receive more than 70,000 foreign coins or slugs annually. Sea water freezes at about two degrees Centigrade, with resultant ice practically free from salt, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

GRANT FARE INCREASE MASSILLON, Oct. 17—City councilmen have overridden Mayor S. Robert Weirich's veto and passed legislation giving a fare increase to the Fidelity Motor Bus Co. Tokens, under the measure, will sell for 11 cents instead of three for a quarter.

U. S. Steel, CIO Plan Wage Talks

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17—(UP)—U. S. Steel Corp., producer of one-third of the nation's steel, agreed yesterday to "talk about" the wage increase demands of the CIO United Steelworkers on Oct. 27.

"Big Steel," traditional pace-maker for the industry, designated the date for a resumption of advance wage talks after a three-hour meeting here with a union delegation headed by CIO-USW President Philip Murray.

Murray had asked the country's 1,400 steel firms to open wage talks on a local level in advance, warning that the union would expect a "substantial" increase to meet higher living costs. Under the current contract, wage talks could be opened Nov. 1, less than a week after the date set for a

Motorist Fined; 5 Vehicles In Mishaps

A Salem motorist was cited by police on a reckless driving charge following an accident on N. Lincoln ave at 7 p. m. Monday.

Police said Albert B. Hiner of R. D. 5, Salem, drove his car into the rear of a truck parked at 670 N. Lincoln ave and knocked the vehicle against a utility pole. Russell W. Stouffer Jr. of Youngstown, driver of the truck, was not in the vehicle at the time. He told police he kept the truck's parking lights on before leaving it.

Hiner, who was reported to have been drinking, is scheduled to appear in Mayor Harry M. Vincent's court at 2:30 p. m. today to face the reckless driving charge. The complete front of his auto was demolished and considerable damage was caused to the truck.

A driverless tractor-trailer truck laden with building tiles rolled backward from its parked position on S. Ellsworth ave into the car being driven by Martin Frank of 808 Newgarden ave at 4:35 p. m. Monday.

Considerable damage was caused to the right side of the car which was turning onto S. Ellsworth ave from Franklin st at the time. The truck was parked near the intersection by Claude Hoffman of Corry, Pa.

In a three-car collision at 448 W. State st, cars operated by George J. Dierker of Pittsburgh and George Karlis of R. D. 4, Salem, were stopped in the line of traffic at 3:15 p. m. Monday when the car driven by James J. Johnson of Georgetown hit into the rear of the Dierker auto which in turn hit the Karlis car.

Mr. Johnson told police his foot slipped from the brake at the time, causing the collision. Minor damages were caused each vehicle.

Rhee Differs With U. N. On Korea Fate

SEOUL, Oct. 17—(AP)—Korean President Syngman Rhee said today he will abide by any United Nations directive but he thinks the future of his government should be determined by Koreans.

A resolution by the United Nations Commission on Korea (UNCKO) would limit Rhee's powers to South Korea until a country-wide election can be held. That brought an expression of shock from Rhee, whose election was U. N. supervised, and "serious concern" to members of his government.

The 75-year-old president told reporters: "I can not believe this is the policy of the U. N. commission. The whole structure of the plan is impossible for the Korean people to accept."

He warned that the Communists would renew charges that this government is a puppet if it is restricted in its powers.

Commissioners Hike Budget For 1951

Tentative approval of a $896,719.17 budget, proposed by county commissioners for 1951, was given at a public hearing conducted in the commissioners' office at Lisbon Monday afternoon.

The sum contrasts with figures of this year's budget, listing six months actual expenditures and an estimate for the second six months of $914,500, and actual expenditures of $748,232.49 in 1949.

The increase in this year's budget over the preceding year is shown in tuberculosis care for which $90,389.87 was spent in 1949, while this year's estimate may reach $189,000, with $178,300 set aside for such care next year in the proposed budget.

This year's budget also anticipates a $20,956.02 increase to $66,360.76 in the assessing of personal property and appraising of real estate, as compared to $45,404.74 last year, which next year will be cut back to $42,806.

The common pleas court also lists an increase from $26,652.09 in 1949 to the estimate of $36,160 this year and the proposal next year of $49,260 in the tentative budget, with other funds remaining at about the same figure.

First Color TV Suit Filed By Pilot Corp.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17—(AP)—The Pilot Radio Corp. filed a suit today attacking the color television decision of the Federal Communications Commission as arbitrary, capricious and against the public interest.

The suit, first of several that have been promised, asked United States district court at Brooklyn for an injunction suspending enforcement of the commission's order of Oct. 12 authorizing the color method of the Columbia Broadcasting system.

Enforcement of the decision, said Pilot, "would impose upon the public useless and unnecessary expenditures for external and internal adapters and like expenditures by the public for converters."

MAYOR VINCENT ILL

Mayor Harry M. Vincent is ill and confined to his home at 443 S. Union ave for the remainder of this week. Persons desiring municipal information or permits should direct their calls to the maintenance department at the city hall.

Game Warden Kills Deer Injured By Car

A large doe was hit about 8 p. m. Monday evening by a motorist traveling on the Ellsworth road, three miles north of here. The car, driven by Miss Helen Hoffmaster of R. D. 4, Salem, struck the deer, breaking both of its front legs and damaging the front end of the auto. Still alive after it had been hit, the deer managed to stagger about 100 yards from the road and into a meadow where it was found and shot by Earl Ressler, Mahoning county game warden. He estimated the doe's weight at 150 pounds.

The carcass has been removed by the game warden, and will be sent to the county home as meat.
